“Learn to Lead” – A Virtual Leadership Training Program

Dempo Wizard Club of the college in collaboration with M. R. Pai Foundation and Forum of Free Enterprise organized a two-day virtual leadership Program – “Learn to Lead” for the students of our college. Registration forms were made using google forms and circulated on college WhatsApp group to be shared in all the classes of BCOM and self-financed programmes. First 70 students were given chance to participate. It was held on 20 and 21st of October from 9.30 am to 1 pm over Zoom meet.

The objective of this program was to sharpen the leadership skills of the students. The training program was conducted by two resource persons in four different sessions on two days.

On day one, Mr. Rajiv Kumar Luv, who is a visiting faculty at ICFAI Business School, Goregaon, ITM Sion, SNTD Santacruz, NMIMS, SEMCOM and GH Patel PG Institute of Business Management, Vallabh Vidyanagar and Forum of Free Enterprise, in the area of soft skills was the resource person. Principal Professor Dr. Radhika S. Nayak, welcomed the virtual gathering. Ms. Soniya V. Chodankar, Assistant Professor in Economics introduced the resource person.

There were two sessions on day one. The first session was on "Setting and Achieving Goals" and the second session was based on "The power of habits". The Resource Person commenced the session with the question mark as to Why are goals important? He mentioned that we need to be aware of our goals every moment. He comprehended that the success cycle comprises of goal setting, achievement, satisfaction, and confidence. He emphasized that the short-term goals must support long-term goals. Further Mr. Rajiv Luv highlighted the five factors which have an impact on our life-those are environment, events, knowledge, results, and dreams. The important points in goal setting are personal, written, and challenging. At the end of the session, he said that one should give more attention to why we need to achieve and less on how we can achieve the goals?

The second session of day one, commenced at 11.30 am on “the Power of Habits”. The resource person highlighted that leader are the ones who simply possess leadership habits. Further, he stressed on essential of habits that reduce the effort of the brain, reduce pressure on the brain, keep the brain free to focus on more important things and habits are more powerful than goals. Mr. Luv explained the factors which are responsible for forming the habits such as stress, boredom, repeated behaviour, and when we see benefits. Deliberate choice, belief, and action are the reason for forming good habits. Our habit patterns enable us to use time and energy most efficiently. We must admit our bad habits and one must work on time. He also explained the three phases of habits with real-life examples, which are trigger, routine, and reward.

To conclude the day one, a vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. Shrikant Madar, Assistant Professor in Economics. Mr. Advait Venugopal, student of FY B. Com A compered the program for day one.

On day two, Mr. Vivek Patki was the resource person. Mr. Patki has a B. Tech in Chemical Engineering and two post graduate diplomas in Business Management. Mr. Patki launched his institute to impart training in Public Speaking, Communication, and various professional skills. Ms. Shruti Ekawade, Assistant Professor in Economics introduced the resource person.

Session one was on "Sharpening the vital skills". Session started with sir Vivek Patki asking students, to how many dots they can make in one minute. Students responded by telling different numbers.

He later gave them the task of making dots on the paper and he counted the time. After the task students were asked to share their experience about the game and quoted "Change the method and result will change". The lesson from the game was that before starting a job find out what is the best technique to do it. And if we change the method, we can change the results.

A story was narrated to students regarding the three stonecutters. The moral of the story was that anything we do has to have right spirit only then there will be quality and quantity.

Students were shown rating scales of 7 skills which are considered necessary for life. They had to select any three skills from the following skills such as decision making, communication skills, goal setting, time management, team work, leadership skills and creativity. Upon rating by the students, the two highly rated skills i.e., decision making and time management were discussed with students.

For decision making it was advised to students that your decision make your destiny. If there is no decision followed by action, there is no commitment to it. Decisions must always be followed by action.

By asking students to write what are the things needed to make one cup of coffee, students were explained the importance of time management. They were told that "you won't be able to make one cup of coffee with all those items unless you have the time to do it." Time is the most essential raw material.

Mr. Patki also highlighted wastage of time by students. He said, "if you are wasting time, you are wasting life". Students were told the importance of making timetable. 3 rules for making timetable were analyzed. They are as follows:

Rule one: provide maximum 50% of time for doing important but not urgent work.

Rule two: provide 20% extra time for unexpected interruption or disturbances.

Rule three: keep the remaining 30% time free.

Session two on day two was on "Understanding self and others". Mr. Patki started the session by asking students how do we understand ourself and understand others?

For understanding one's self, the following was discussed.

Being a leader means, the leader should value his time and that of his team members.

A leader should be perfect.

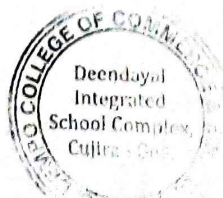

With the help of PowerPoint presentation Mr. Patki explained how to understand one's self. Johari window was used to explain how one can develop ourself.

Students were given time to think about their two strengths and two weaknesses. He mentioned that "unless you admit your weakness, you will not think of removing it and if we don't overcome our weakness, we suffer".

Students were advised that if you want to be a leader, you need to be organized. Responsibility to become better is ours as we know ourself better. It was said that self-awareness is one of the gifts given to us, as we know what is happening to us. Thus, Conscience is our gift.

Sir gave 3 P rules for auto suggestions. One is that the suggestions should be personal, that is related to you. One cannot say people will like me, but say I am likeable. Secondly, it should be positive. Thirdly it must be in present tense.

For under understanding others, one should know that an Individual has the following needs.

1. Attention- As a leader the more attention you pay to others. They will pay more attention to you.
2. Acceptance- Accept the people as they are.
3. Approval – Everybody looks for approval
4. Appreciation- By praising we can make peoples day
5. Adulation - It is appreciation at the highest level.

Mr. Patki concluded the session by explaining the deep meaning of word PERFORM

P- Productivity

E- Empathy

R- Role and Goal clarity

F- Flexibility

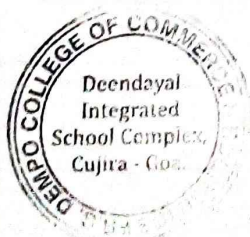

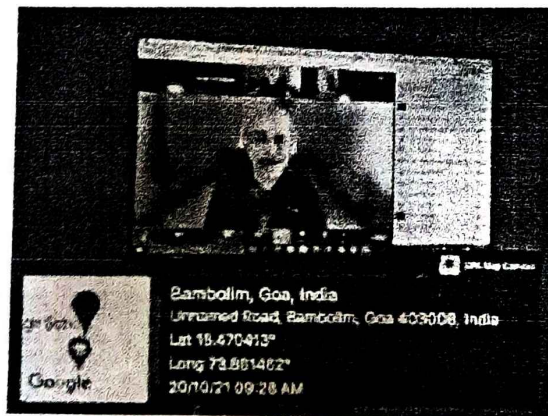

O- Open communication

R- Recognition

M- Morale

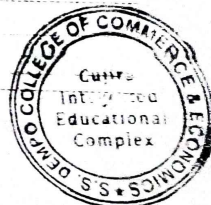

Vote of thanks was proposed by Ms. Veerani Naik, Assistant Professor in Economics. Compeering was done by Ms. Vedika Karkal student of FYBBA.

Google form link was shared with the participants to send their feedback and receive their e certificate from the organizers.
